OFFICE TO BE IN THIS CITY

PIONEER FRUIT CO. SELECTS OGDEN HEADQUARTERS.

This is Equivalent to Making This City the Home of the Utah Fruit Growers.

It has been definitely decided that the Utah headquarters of the Pioneer Fruit company, of Sacramento, which is to handle the Utah Fruit crop this season, will be located in Ogden, Salt Lake, therefore, lost out in its strenuous fight for the headquarters.

President Heywood of the Weber club received word today from H. M. Ellis, president of the Pioneer company, stating that the officers of that concern had decided that Ogden is the preferable location for the headquarters, and that rent for the offices at 369 Twenty-fourth street, would begin with May 1.

The office rooms, which are directly over the Richardson grocery store, are desirable for their central location.

The company will employ five or six men at this point, including clerks, bookkeepers and outside agents who will attend to various departments of the work.

In his communication to the local fruit growers' association, President Ellis states that no matter what size the season's crop in this section proves to be, his company will give it the same careful attention that has gained for the concern universal respect and confidence.

The present outlook is that there will be from 50 to 60 carloads of fruit to be shipped by the Ogden association this season. While this quantity may seem small in comparison with the 107 carloads shipped from here last year, the probability is that much more money will be realized owing to the smallness of the crop and the consequent increase in price. Last year's net returns varied from $200 to $400 a car while the probability is that the price this year will average about $500 a car. The 1908 returns amounted to about $80,000.

The Provo fruit growers are still without the aid of the state association, and unless the directors of the Provo organization change their attitude in some instances, Provo fruit will probably appear in the Denver markets in competition with that from Ogden and other districts in the state. There is a possibility, however, of the Provo growers affiliating with other associations of Utah. The Springfield growers, who were included with the Provo association last year, have formed an association of their own this season and have already joined the state organization.

SENTENCED TO STATE PRISON

LORENZO MONTGOMERY MUST PAY THE PENALTY.

For Crime Committed at North Ogden—He is at Present Out on $500 Bail Bond.

In the district court this morning Lorenzo Montgomery was sentenced to one and a half years in the penitentiary. He was found guilty of a statutory offense several weeks ago by a jury of his peers and sentence was deferred owing to a motion for a new trial. This was denied, and after sentence was imposed this morning, defendant filed notice of an appeal to the supreme court. This will serve as a stay of proceedings and, pending the decision of the higher court, Montgomery is at liberty on bail bonds aggregating $500.

The case has been in the public eye several months and the evidence adduced at the trial was of a disgusting character.

OFFENDERS IN POLICE COURT

"SLIM" COLLINS IS BACK AT OLD STAMPING GROUNDS.

First Day in Town He Lands in the City Jail—Vagrants Ordered to Leave Town.

The police court grind was a large one today, most of the cases, however, being those of drunkenness and vagrancy.

The most noticeable incident in connection with the session was the return of "Slim" Collins to his old stamping grounds. "Slim" was reported to have gone to Africa in advance of the Roosevelt expedition and the frequent reports from Mombasa and vicinity had been scanned eagerly by the jailer's force for news regarding "Slim's" anticipated adventures. It now develops, however, that the old timer only succeeded in losing himself in the wilds of Nevada for a number of months to return to civilization, tanned to a mahogany brown and still possessed of an undying thirst. The old charge of drunkenness was read to him, and "Slim" sleepily admitted to the court that he had absorbed a few drinks on the train Tuesday and as he had "come to in the Ogden cooler," the probation was that he had again fallen from grace and the water wagon. The court gave him five days in which to sober up and resume his interrupted itinerary.

Frank Beebe declared himself guilty of the charge of vagrancy and the court ordered him to continue the prisoning being held under bonds to the amount of $10.

Charley Morris, electrician and many times proposed candidate for the gold cure, was in court today after a protracted absence which he was unable to explain owing to a badly swollen mouth. He managed, however, to articulate "Guilty," and the usual fine of $5 or five days was imposed.

The soloists, who accompany the big organization, are reported in fine condition and the entertainments of this afternoon and evening will prove the musical treats of the season beyond all doubt.

The Chicago Symphony orchestra has completed its third week of the season's tour and will close June 1st at Chicago. Starting from the latter point, a jump was made to San Fran-

BOY'S DEATH EXPLAINED IN A NEW LIGHT

In the excitement following the fatal shooting of Alfred Royle last Wednesday evening, the story of the killing was that the little fellow had been accidentally shot by a playmate. Now it is related that the loaded shotgun was leaning against a tent pole and the boy, in stooping to pick up something, knelt on the canvas and the jar caused the gun to fall and be discharged.

George Smith, the 15-year-old boy who was supposed to have fired the shot, says he had been playing Indian with other boys and had, in violation of the instructions of his parents, obtained his father's gun, loaded it and fired one barrel, returning it to the house. Then his playmate requested that he get the gun once more and fire the remaining shot. He carried the gun to the tent, where they were making tea. He placed the weapon against the center pole of the tent and, while he was in the act of returning the gun to the open teapot, Alfred Royle leaned or knelt on the canvas at the door or opening in the tent, and immediately there was a loud report and the horrified children were witnesses to the death scene.

A Woman's Word.

In a case at Southwark, his honor Judge Willis remarked: "I believe in accepting a woman's word—except, perhaps, in some instances connected with dress."—London Standard.

The Kitchen God.

The Kitchen god of China is perhaps not rightly so called. He has place over the cooking range, but he is the "recording angel" of the Chinese house, and it is his duty to note the actions of each member of the family and report them to the gods at the end of every month. Once a year, too, he goes to heaven in person and makes his annual report. So once a year the family prostrate themselves before him, carry him in procession, and finally burn him, while crackers are fired.

Wretched Pay for Labor.

At a hearing last summer in London on the "sweating" question, evidence was brought forward showing that 56 women who sewed hosiery and eyes on cards earned at an average a little over 75 cents a week. Another woman was instanced who worked from nine one morning until the next morning and earned 16 cents in that time. It would seem better to die.

Costly Parliament House.

Parliament house, Melbourne, which has been rushed by "the unemployed" of the commonwealth capital, is the costliest legislative palace in Greater Britain. A million has been expended on it, and it is not yet completed. It belongs to the parliament of Victoria, but since federation it has been the meeting place of the parliament of the commonwealth, its owners moving to a wing of the exhibition building close by.

Grown-Up Children.

It is not only the frivolous whom the spirit of childishness is just now leading astray. Stiffness is the fashion even among the wise. Women especially affect a kind of childish shrewdness in talking of serious subjects. Like children who have the habit of romancing, they lose the sense of reality, and because they never talk exactly as they think they begin to think exactly as they talk.—London Spectator.

Gnawing His Way.

Nature knew that the rat would want to spend half his time gnawing and she therefore provided him with the right kind of teeth to do it. A boy caught a rat and bored it up, and in the course of a week the rodent gnawed a hole through oak planks nailed together until there was a thickness of 18 inches. The hole was almost as round and smooth as a carpenter could have made.

Art.

Now nature is not at variance with art, nor art with nature; they being both the servants of his providence. Art is the perfection of nature. Were the world now as it was the sixth day, there were yet a chaos. Nature hath made one kind of art and art another. In brief, all things are artificial; for nature is the art of God—Sir Thomas Browne.

Ageing Timber.

Timber is now seasoned electrically. It is placed in a solution of borax, resin and carbonate of soda, in a large tank connected with an electric current. The effect of the current is to make the sap rise to the top of the bath, while the solution enters the pores of the timber. The process lasts for seven or eight hours, and then the wood is dried. Timber may be seasoned in this way in a few days, and is equal to that which has been stored five years.

Where the Clove Tree Thrives.

There is no place in the world where the clove tree thrives as well as in the islands of Zanzibar and Pemba. It is the principal product of the islands, and, together with copra and the ivory brought from the mainland, cloves form the principal item of export.

Last, But Not Least.

"Young man," said the heavy father, "do you understand the style in which my daughter has been accustomed to live? She has always had every luxury she wants."

"And now I'm the luxury she wants," murmured the suitor.

Impossibility.

It is impossible for a woman to understand how any man can have so much money that he doesn't know what to do with it.—Milwaukee Journal.

En Route to Seattle—E. B. Caldwell and a party of friends will arrive at Ogden Friday morning en route to Seattle by way of the San Pedro road and in the private car "Sunbeam."

Returning to Work—Operator R. N. Gurnsey has resumed his duties at the Rio Grande telegraph office and will defer his visit to Iowa until later in the season.
